16. Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary
Barkatullah University is conducting traditional and advance academic programmes in a holistic manner. The courses focus on values, ethics, traditions, advancement and research orientation. The university follows semester system and since 2019-20 implemented CBCS pattern in majority of teaching programmes. After announcement of NEP 2020, university is following the guidelines of NEP and state government. Traditional, professional, humanities, social sciences, science, life science, physical education, yoga courses and courses in distance mode are conducted in the campus. These courses conducted by the university are designed to cater the local, regional and national needs. As a part of each course community participation is essential feature. Students complete project work or internship as part of their syllabus. This practice provides opportunity to the students to know about external world. Courses are also supplemented with environmental and value components. The university runs mostly Post Graduate programmes. In affiliated colleges at graduation level, as per NEP multiple entry and exit will be implemented. The research programmes offered by the university encourages students to focus on multi disciplinary research. Emphasis is given that research out comes should be able to address the social, emotional, academic, and scientific issues. Each P.G. programme is designed to facilitate students with practical and theoretical knowledge.

17. Academic bank of credits (ABC):
The academic bank credit and its transfer procedure is under process. The university and state government is jointly preparing the guidelines in this regard. The university is following CBCS pattern since 19-20 session. The course content is interdisciplinary in variety of courses. Once credit transfer policy is finalized, credit transfer policy will be implemented.

18.Skill development:

All the academic programmes offered by the university focus on skill development. The course curricula also incorporates component of skill development. Skill development is made possible among the students through sending them in the field related to their project or internship works. Due to this, students get direct opportunity to develop their skills with the help of experts of that area. Through internship training, students get facility to learn skills on the job. The placement cell of the university also organizes training session for the students to face the placement interviews. Thus placement cell also gives them essential training related to their communication and content presentation. Time to time, different teaching department organizes activities to enrich students' capabilities.

19.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

Through the existing curriculum, the university aims to enrich students with indigenous values and culture. University promotes multi cultures' group. Students from various part of the country are admitted in the university. Thus students get opportunity to know about the other cultures also. Culture and value deterioration has been noticed in last few years. Due to emergence of globalization, materialism has been the dominating force to influence our students. The education provided by the university makes effort to promote cultural understanding and Indian values among the students. The subjects like Arabic, Persian, Sanskrit, Yoga, Sociology, and Environmental Science etc. give emphasis on inculcation of traditional cultural values. The course content modern disciplines like Microbiology, Biotechnology, Engineering, Pharmacy, Earth Science, Physics and Genetics etc also empower our students with advance and traditional values University organized various functions at different occasions for students to develop cultural understanding. Emphasis is also given to enhance awareness among students through the celebrations of Independence day, Republic day, Women's Day, Constitution day, and Youth day etc. These celebrations enhances integrity , and understanding of cultural diversity among students.

20.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

The university has sincere and objective practice to examine the learning outcome through different feedback mechanism. The feedback from teacher, student, alumni and parents regarding the designing and development of the curriculum is obtained and accordingly changes are made. These suggestions are placed in BOS meetings for administrative decision and implementation. In the curriculum development, university focuses on knowledge enhancement and creating job employment. Professional courses are designed based on the input from the industry and market. The evaluation of the students is also based on various parameters- assignment, presentation, CCE, and project/internship work. The departments also strive to meet the program specific out come at the end of the semester.

21.Distance education/online education:

Looking the spirit of NEP, the university makes an effort to reach the students through distance mode courses. The university has fully functional Institute of Open and Distance Education, through this university organizes diploma courses for the needy people. If required university conducts courses through on line mode to students to provide them academic input as well as online study material. As per NEP guidelines, university is trying to create change in its existing ways and policies as per state government guidelines. Regular contact classes as per guidelines are conducted to support the students.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

The university follows student centric approach in its learning processes. Learners are evaluated on the basis of their past performance as well as through class room interaction. The university had a policy for slow and fast learners. The objective is to maximise the learning outcomes.

The department assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special programmes for slow learners. During sessional evaluation the learning outcomes of students becomes clear. This information is also correlated to actual class room interactions and responses of the students. Special classes are arranged along with tutorials on routine basis for students who need extra attention. The purpose is to help the student cope with the learning expectations. Areas of study or topics that are specially found difficult are revised so that students can clarify their doubts and understand the topic better. Some student may miss out some classes due to some personal issues or preoccupations, they too are encouraged to attend the tutorials and extra classes taken to assist learning. These are reflected in the department time table. Practical's field exposure, seminars, workshops, etc are organized to maximise learning outcomes and give our students hands on theoretical clarity with practical understanding, this is specially oriented to fast learners.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The University has made provisions in structure of its programs to provide the students participative learning-experience. All the teaching departments have adopted Choiced Based Credit System(CBCS) to make teaching learning process student-centric. Students have enough flexibility to have their own choices of coursed. It even allows students to choose the courses of their own interest from other departments. Project work, assignment, quiz, presentation etc. are integral part of all programs running the teaching departments

Laboratory-based practical classes in science departments; Surveys, Field study, in social science, commerce and Management courses; Moot Courts in legal courses, teaching assignments in education department; weekly seminars, group discussion, assignment, presentation in language courses are common components of the various courses. However, All the above mentioned components are so intrinsically connected with each other that translate the classroom knowledge into practice.

Study tour is common to all programs. Industrial visits, participation of students for internship in multinational companies, renowned laboratories and industry houses, field work in slum areas are part of the teaching methods in the concerned departments.

Students are given right blend of innovative methods to make learning student centric and rewarding experience. They are encouraged to take up innovative projects. Different learning- based methods viz. problem-based, case-based, project-based, inquiry-based, computation-based are implemented wherever feasible. Periodical guest lectures on topics relevant to various skills and values by experts from respective industries/ organisations/institutes are organised to elevate students' knowledge, skills and build confidence in them.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools including online resources for effective teaching and learning processes during the year

University teachers are conversant with the use of ICT tools for teaching, and apt in its use to enhance the learning outcomes. They routinely use its various mediums for meeting different teaching-learning objectives. These include from keeping class records to preparation of notes, presentation, lectures, even exam are dependant in its use, etc. Activities based on IT are used to enhance learning; for example, whatsapp groups are used for not only administrative purpose but also for sharing notes and discussions. Sessional are shared on whatsapp, etc. These groups are maintained by teachers. During pandemic conditions these have served as a boon in maintaining teaching learning activities. During this period class were been held online. Even examinations were been conducted using IT mediums during pandemic. It has changed the academic environment by increasing the use of IT tools in teaching and learning. Students are referred to IT resources for study material and some notes and PPTs are uploaded on the university website to facilitate guided learning pathways. Presentations are made by students using PPTs and office. These mediums are also used for documentation, information and facilitation. Lot of university processes are ICT based like admission, fees payment etc. These are indeed evidence of the digital friendly environment of the university.

2.5.3 - IT integration and reforms in the examination procedures and processes (continuous internal assessment and end-semester assessment) have brought in considerable improvement in examination management system of the institution

There is considerable IT integration in the university examination processes in the department levels. This has changed in major ways the process by which exams are conducted and reforms in the examination procedures and processes. Not only are these technologies used for information and management of examination but have become intrinsic to the objectives of teaching and learning process itself. Sessional, practical, assignment, viva voice marks are submitted on line to the university. This has speeded up the process of result preparation and also lowered the chances of errors as it is generated directly from the department. Besides in assignments the drafts presented by students is corrected on basis of feedback many a times thus bringing it up to a certain level of appropriate and expected performance level. This also serves as record of submission. Needless to mention it is expected that students type their own submissions thus also serves to enhance their IT familiarity and skills. Examination process itself thus becomes another avenue of learning. It undoubtedly results in less use of paper and contributes to our environment conservation efforts. This is a process which is continuously evolving with the departments increasingly using new technological interfaces.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - The institution has stated learning outcomes (generic and programme specific)/graduate attributes which are integrated into the assessment process and widely publicized through the website and other documents

The institution has stated learning outcomes generic and programme specific clearly in the syllabus. The syllabus is also uploaded in the university web site and is thus all time freely available for students for information and reference. Even before a student opts for a particular program, they can view the learning attributes and outcomes to help them make an informed academic decision. These program specific outcomes are the basis of sessional and assignments and thus they are expected to learn and develop these skills up to their own potential or at least course requirement. The assignments bring focus to the major learning objectives and they aim at self-learning while going beyond the class room teaching, they allow the students to explore various social issues and processes, and also stress is to present them with prioritisation. These assignments are interlinked and integral part of the evaluative processes. The assignment questions are first discussed in class before they go to the groups for students. They are tuned to evaluate the mentioned learning outcomes. Thus they are intrinsic part of the entire learning process.

File Description	Documents

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes, Programme specific outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution during the year

As already mentioned the POs , PSOs and Cos are stated in the syllabus which is available on the web site for all to see. This is also discussed during induction and in the introduction of each course. Teaching also focuses on the major topics, and stress readings along the mentioned portions of the syllabus. Further these are the basis of evaluations which is multi level. Each course has scope of internal evaluation on basis of sessional or objective type tests. Next there is semester end exam which is mostly theoretical. There are also evaluation done on the basis of assignment, field work, internship viva- voice exam that allows the assesment of attainment of POs PSOs and COs. Feedback system is expected to give inputs on the attainment of POs PSOs and Cos accordingly the system is expected to correct or make necessary changes. Thus it is a very important assesment parameter.

RESEARCH, INNOVATIONS AND EXTENSION

3.1 - Promotion of Research and Facilities

3.1.1 - The institution Research facilities are frequently updated and there is well defined policy for promotion of research which is uploaded on the institutional website and implemented

The purpose of this research and innovation policy is to provide research environment where they could accomplish their academic excellence, research commitments and responsibilities. We have a community of researchers in all departments which work further to strengthen the University's reputation for excellence in scientific research and extend it in the areas of emerging sciences, arts and social sciences through collaborations with basic scientists and researchers a borders. We support our mission by striving towards basic goals like scientific excellence, innovation, and leadership through the recruitment retention of outstanding faculty, by integrating undergraduate, graduate, doctoral, postdoctoral education into all aspects of our research and by promoting efficient use of the advanced instrumentation resources for research. We pursue our mission and vision for research through coordinated effort faculty, facilities renewal, collaboration and rational resource allocation to achieve our goal, we have taken some initiatives like Faculty excellence, establishing research funding facility, developing reserve fun space for allocation to promising new areas of research, also establishing guidelines for ongoing evaluation of new programs and development of programs that facilitate the interaction of all graduate doctoral and post-doctoral students.

5.4 - Alumni Engagement

5.4.1 - The Alumni Association/Chapters (registered and functional) contributes significantly to the development of the institution through financial and other support services during the year

The concept of alumni association evolved for needs from both the ends, i.e., academicians and professionals, in the aim of building a bridge between college life and career life, so that the fresher graduates are made proactive to face the current challenges of competitive professional world. Both the ends shall work hand in hand to help each other for achieving the goal. The idea took shape and formation of Alumni Association turned into reality.

The University is having its alumni association. Also, individual departments are having department wise alumni groups, which are actively engaged in communicating with each other. They often gather and share their experiences with the new commers and guide them. In few departments no formal alumni association is there, but distinguished alumni are connected to the institute online. Approximately 200 students are on whatsapp group, 400 on yahoo and more than 1000 students are connected on Facebook with the group name under the umbrella of BUIT.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is reflected in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management

The University has a clear system of participatory management and decentralization as reflected in the various institutional practices. The act clearly defines powers and duties of various offices and office bearers and there are statues and ordinances to further narrow down their day to day functioning in exercising these powers. Some of the examples of this decentralized system are financial and administrative powers of various offices of the University. As far as academic activities are concerned, every subject has its own Board of studies which has autonomy to design and implement its own curriculum and can make necessary changes if required. These changes are further endorsed in the Standing Committee of the Academic Council and later in Academic Council. The minutes are then approved in Executive Council. Likewise, in administrative practices, the office of Registrar has been delegated with some administrative and financial powers which are exercised with the support of Financial Code of the Universities frames by the Coordination Committee. At the departmental level also any activity or decision is conducted or finalized respectively on the basis of recommendations of the departmental council after formal approval of higher authority.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic plan is effectively deployed

The vision document of the university has been chalked out with a very thoughtful and in a well planned manner. It has short term and long term goals with their strategies of deployment.

Future Plan & Strategies: The education system should be based on cafeteria system of education. In this base departments can float modules of courses / credit per semester. It will help the student to choose courses as per his future needs and will help the university in minimizing the duplication of same courses and papers being taught in different departments to smaller number of students.

Deployment: The University CCE system in place and more robust in CBCS system. The university teacher must develop study material for industry oriented courses so the students get quality study material.

The University has developed a huge amount of e-resources during the last few years which is available on our website. Industry participation has to be increased by signing more number of M.O.Us with them. The future of the University lies with the quality of research work, in collaboration with Industries. This will help in developing entrepreneurship in Barkatullah University jurisdiction and surrounding states. The University has also signed MoU with leading institutions

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

The university follows student centric approach in its learning processes. Learners are evaluated on the basis of their past performance as well as through class room interaction. The university had a policy for slow and fast learners. The objective is to maximise the learning outcomes.

The department assesses the learning levels of the students and organises special programmes for slow learners. During sessional evaluation the learning outcomes of students becomes clear. This information is also correlated to actual class room interactions and responses of the students. Special classes are arranged along with tutorials on routine basis for students who need extra attention. The purpose is to help the student cope with the learning expectations. Areas of study or topics that are specially found difficult are revised so that students can clarify their doubts and understand the topic better. Some student may miss out some classes due to some personal issues or preoccupations, they too are encouraged to attend the tutorials and extra classes taken to assist learning. These are reflected in the department time table. Practical's field exposure, seminars, workshops, etc are organized to maximise learning outcomes and give our students hands on theoretical clarity with practical understanding, this is specially oriented to fast learners.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem-solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

The University has made provisions in structure of its programs to provide the students participative learning-experience. All the teaching departments have adopted Choiced Based Credit System(CBCS) to make teaching learning process student-centric. Students have enough flexibility to have their own choices of coursed. It even allows students to choose the courses of their own interest from other departments. Project work, assignment, quiz, presentation etc. are integral part of all programs running the teaching departments

Laboratory-based practical classes in science departments; Surveys, Field study, in social science, commerce and Management courses; Moot Courts in legal courses, teaching assignments in education department; weekly seminars, group discussion, assignment, presentation in language courses are common components of the various courses. However, All the above mentioned components are so intrinsically connected with each other that translate the classroom knowledge into practice.

Study tour is common to all programs. Industrial visits, participation of students for internship in multinational companies, renowned laboratories and industry houses, field work in slum areas are part of the teaching methods in the concerned departments.

Students are given right blend of innovative methods to make learning student centric and rewarding experience. They are encouraged to take up innovative projects. Different learning-based methods viz. problem-based, case-based, project-based, inquiry-based, computation-based are implemented wherever feasible. Periodical guest lectures on topics relevant to various skills and values by experts from respective industries/ organisations/ institutes are organised to elevate students' knowledge, skills and build confidence in them.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools including online resources for effective teaching and learning processes during the year

University teachers are conversant with the use of ICT tools for teaching, and apt in its use to enhance the learning outcomes. They routinely use its various mediums for meeting different teaching- learning objectives. These include from keeping class records to preparation of notes, presentation, lectures, even exam are dependant in its use, etc. Activities based on IT are used to enhance learning; for example, whatsapp groups are used for not only administrative purpose but also for sharing notes and discussions. Sessional are shared on whatsapp, etc. These groups are maintained by teachers. During pandemic conditions these have served as a boon in maintaining teaching learning activities. During this period class were been held online. Even examinations were been conducted using IT mediums during pandemic. It has changed the academic environment by increasing the use of IT tools in teaching and learning. Students are referred to IT resources for study material and some notes and PPTs are uploaded on the university website to facilitate guided learning pathways. Presentations are made by students using PPTs and office. These mediums are also used for documentation, information and facilitation. Lot of university processes are ICT based like admission, fees payment etc. These are indeed evidence of the digital friendly environment of the university.

2.5.3 - IT integration and reforms in the examination procedures and processes (continuous internal assessment and end-semester assessment) have brought in considerable improvement in examination management system of the institution

There is considerable IT integration in the university examination processes in the department levels. This has changed in major ways the process by which exams are conducted and reforms in the examination procedures and processes. Not only are these technologies used for information and management of examination but have become intrinsic to the objectives of teaching and learning process itself. Sessional, practical, assignment, viva voice marks are submitted on line to the university. This has speeded up the process of result preparation and also lowered the chances of errors as it is generated directly from the department. Besides in assignments the drafts presented by students is corrected on basis of feedback many a times thus bringing it up to a certain level of appropriate and expected performance level. This also serves as record of submission. Needless to mention it is expected that students type their own submissions thus also serves to enhance their IT familiarity and skills. Examination process itself thus becomes another avenue of learning. It undoubtedly results in less use of paper and contributes to our environment conservation efforts. This is a process which is continuously evolving with the departments increasingly using new technological interfaces.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - The institution has stated learning outcomes (generic and programme specific)/graduate attributes which are integrated into the assessment process and widely publicized through the website and other documents

The institution has stated learning outcomes generic and programme specific clearly in the syllabus. The syllabus is also uploaded in the university web site and is thus all time freely available for students for information and reference. Even before a student opts for a particular program, they can view the learning attributes and outcomes to help them make an informed academic decision. These program specific outcomes are the basis of sessional and assignments and thus they are expected to learn and develop these skills up to their own potential or at least course requirement. The assignments bring focus to the major learning objectives and they aim at self-learning while going beyond the class room teaching, they allow the students to explore various social issues and processes, and also stress is to present them with prioritisation. These assignments are interlinked and integral part of the evaluative processes. The assignment questions are first discussed in class before they go to the groups for students. They are tuned to evaluate the mentioned learning outcomes. Thus they are intrinsic part of the entire learning process.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes, Programme specific outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution during the year

As already mentioned the POs , PSOs and Cos are stated in the syllabus which is available on the web site for all to see. This is also discussed during induction and in the introduction of each course. Teaching also focuses on the major topics, and stress readings along the mentioned portions of the syllabus. Further these are the basis of evaluations which is multi level. Each course has scope of internal evaluation on basis of sessional or objective type tests. Next there is semester end exam which is mostly theoretical. There are also evaluation done on the basis of assignment, field work, internship viva- voice exam that allows the assesment of attainment of POs PSOs and COs. Feedback system is expected to give inputs on the attainment of POs PSOs and Cos accordingly the system is expected to correct or make necessary changes. Thus it is a very important assesment parameter.

RESEARCH, INNOVATIONS AND EXTENSION

3.1 - Promotion of Research and Facilities

3.1.1 - The institution Research facilities are frequently updated and there is well defined policy for promotion of research which is uploaded on the institutional website and implemented

The purpose of this research and innovation policy is to provide research environment where they could accomplish their academic excellence, research commitments and responsibilities. We have a community of researchers in all departments which work further to strengthen the University's reputation for excellence in scientific research and extend it in the areas of emerging sciences, arts and social sciences through collaborations with basic scientists and researchers a borders. We support our mission by striving towards basic goals like scientific excellence, innovation, and leadership through the recruitment retention of outstanding faculty, by integrating undergraduate, graduate, doctoral, postdoctoral education into all aspects of our research and by promoting efficient use of the advanced instrumentation resources for research. We pursue our mission and vision for research through coordinated effort faculty, facilities renewal, collaboration and rational resource allocation to achieve our goal, we have taken some initiatives like Faculty excellence, establishing research funding facility, developing reserve fund space for allocation to promising new areas of research, also establishing guidelines for ongoing evaluation of new programs and development of programs that facilitate the interaction of all graduate doctoral and post-doctoral students.

5.4 - Alumni Engagement

5.4.1 - The Alumni Association/Chapters (registered and functional)contributes significantly to the development of the institution through financial and other support services during the year

The concept of alumni association evolved for needs from both the ends, i.e., academicians and professionals, in the aim of building a bridge between college life and career life, so that the fresher graduates are made proactive to face the current challenges of competitive professional world.Both the ends shall work hand in hand to help each other for achieving the goal. The idea took shape and formation of Alumni Association turned into reality.

The University is having its alumni association. Also, individual departments are having department wise alumni groups, which are actively engaged in communicating with each other. They often gather and share their experiences with the new commers and guide them. In few departments no formal alumni association is there, but distinguished alumni are connected to the institute online. Approximately 200 students are on whatsapp group, 400 on yahoo and more than 1000 students are connected on Facebook with the group name under the umbrella of BUIT.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is reflected in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management

The University has a clear system of participatory management and decentralization as reflected in the various institutional practices. The act clearly defines powers and duties of various offices and office bearers and there are statues and ordinances to further narrow down their day to day functioning in exercising these powers. Some of the examples of this decentralized system are financial and administrative powers of various offices of the University. As far as academic activities are concerned, every subject has its own Board of studies which has autonomy to design and implement its own curriculum and can make necessary changes if required. These changes are further endorsed in the Standing Committee of the Academic Council and later in Academic Council. The minutes are then approved in Executive Council. Likewise, in administrative practices, the office of Registrar has been delegated with some administrative and financial powers which are exercised with the support of Financial Code of the Universities frames by the Coordination Committee. At the departmental level also any activity or decision is conducted or finalized respectively on the basis of recommendations of the departmental council after formal approval of higher authority.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic plan is effectively deployed

The vision document of the university has been chalked out with a very thoughtful and in a well planned manner. It has short term and long term goals with their strategies of deployment.

Future Plan & Strategies: The education system should be based on cafeteria system of education. In this base departments can float modules of courses / credit per semester. It will help the student to choose courses as per his future needs and will help the university in minimizing the duplication of same courses and papers being taught in different departments to smaller number of students.

Deployment: The University CCE system in place and more robust in CBCS system. The university teacher must develop study material for industry oriented courses so the students get quality study material.

The University has developed a huge amount of e-resources during the last few years which is available on our website. Industry participation has to be increased by signing more number of M.O.U.s with them. The future of the University lies with the quality of research work, in collaboration with Industries. This will help in developing entrepreneurship in Barkatullah University jurisdiction and surrounding states. The University has also signed MoU with leading institutions

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe one best practice successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual

1. Title

Holistic Health

2.Objectives

- To lead a healthy life.
- Prevention/ Treatment of diseases.
- Promote positive mindset.
- Social /Spiritual health.

3. Context:

Yoga Department has plenty of green area; enough space for mental and spiritual practice which creates a healthy environment for practitioner.

The Department focuses on improving the holistic health of students as well as the community residing in the vicinity of University.

4. Practice:

The participants follow the practice of yama ,niyama, asana, pranayam, pratyahar ,dharna, dhyan and Samadhi.

Yama and Niyama is important for holistic health and its benefits on mental and social health are explained. Some of the participants feel the drastic change in their behavior after following the path of Astang yoga.

University organizes various awareness programs / seminars /workshops for financially weaker aspirants.

5. Evidence of success:

- Celebrated International Yoga Day on 21st June 2022 where approx. 500 persons participated in Yoga session.
- Therapeutic classes for general classes at nominal charges
- Value based Yoga classes in slum areas.

6. Problems Encountered:

- Time consuming practice and perseverance to continue regular practice.
- Difficult to follow disciplined life and tough yogic practices.
- Financial support and equipments for practice are needed.
- More experiments and research are required in this field.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Highlight the performance of the institution in an area distinct to its priority and thrust (within a maximum of 200 words)

Spread in 380 acres of land of BU is committed to achieve greenery across the entire campus. More than 100 varieties of rare plants having aesthetic and medicinal properties can be seen in the lush green campus of BU. To sustain and maintain the green cover Plantation drive is carried out at periodic intervals. The University is making all attempts to make the campus plastic free. Furthermore, There are 15 earthen ponds in the campus for retaining rain water for about three to nine months. In the same continuation a model of roof top harvesting system has been installed in the department of Zoology and Applied Aquaculture. Conservation of endangered flora and fauna like Flucortia indica and Gmlina arborea is attempted by the university. For reducing water footprints attempt is made to print the documents on both side of the paper. All the important circulars and information are made available on e mail to reduce paper wastage. Recently, on the initiative of Alumni of Microbiology department at a pilot scale a vermi-composting unit of two tons capacity has been started. Biodegradable waste is collected from the household and disposed here for vermicomposting.

7.3.2 - Plan of action for the next academic year

Future Plan Bhopal, although developed as educational hub, areas surrounding Bhopal are still educationally backward which need qualitative improvement. In order to promote higher education it is needed that Barkatullah University must grow in following ways: Future Next. a) The education system should be based on cafeteria system of education. In this base departments can float modules of courses/credit per semester. It will help the students to choose courses as per their future needs and will help the university in minimizing the duplication of same courses and papers being taught in different departments to smaller number of students. b) The examination pattern needs urgent attention. Present education system is mainly based on clearing examination and not building knowledge and skills. More emphasis be given on continuous evaluation. c) The university teachers must develop study material for industry oriented courses so that the students can get quality study material. For lab courses manuals be written and for graduate students books in local languages but with scientific terms in English be written. d) The audio visual research center has to be developed to record and circulate lectures of eminent scientist and professors which can be listened by the students in department libraries.
